Mr Arthur Forbes

Darby the 6 July 1685

I receive yours of the 23rd Cur^r & render you heartie thanks for your paines in it but since the Contract is not so exact as requisite yett considering if he is a hard man we doe not impute it to you but offer to requyte the courtship at our service at Comans, the Market of corne faileth drye & for should wish it had not taken effect and gives most grivious in his Letter many scruples & complaints in a word a ungratfull avaritious man wth it is you to have no further dealing, neither doe we care for his Letter, but if you occasionallie write to him, admonish him if he can work the wheate carefully q^d by it may be weell conditioned & delivred according to his obligement & then for we would not be obliged to hold condition, else nothing worthy of relation but yours

I your servable friends
